Re: Consultation on the Implementation of the Approved Dot-ca WHOIS Look-up Directory Privacy Policy

Dear Mr. Twomey:

Public concern about privacy and new Canadian privacy laws caused the Canadian Internet Registration Authority (CIRA) to change its Privacy Policy, particularly as it affects the dot-ca WHOIS look-up directory. We are now seeking feedback on the proposed implementation procedures that will support the new approved Policy.

You were invited previously to participate in a public consultation related to the WHOIS policy itself. As a result of that consultation, the new WHOIS policy was approved in mid 2005. We write to you again seeking your input on the implementation of this new WHOIS policy.

You are invited to view the information documents and complete the on-line questionnaire by 3:00 pm EDT Friday, September 8, 2006 by visiting our website at www.cira.ca and clicking on the "New WHOIS Policy – Proposed Implementation" button.

Comments in writing may also be forwarded to the address below. Questions regarding this consultation may be directed to Manon Langlois, CIRA Communications and Marketing Advisor, at manon.langlois@cira.ca. or to the undersigned.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Bernard Turcotte".

Bernard Turcotte
President and CEO
